+ SKILLS & TOOLS

AI innovation meets human empathy. With AI and data-driven recruiting strategies, process automation, positioning and visibility coaching, and sound change leadership, I support people and companies on their way to the next level and to sustainable success.

“Technology is changing recruiting—but the decisive force remains human. I stand for recruiting that combines data and intuition, artificial intelligence (AI) and human intelligence (HI), quality and efficiency. More than 25 years of executive search, 20,000 interviews, and countless transformation projects: I know where algorithms make a difference—and where real human intuition is needed.”
