

Expert Advice for Product Management

Sparring at eye level to review processes, reflect on opportunities, and challenge strategies

Product development has been evolving with increasing speed and complexity in unprecedented ways – and so has product management. Ever-growing customer demands in a rapidly changing market environment require constant innovation and validation to stay relevant.

enable2grow provides you with a senior expert who will be your coach to jointly reflect on processes, opportunities, and strategy, but also the dynamics within the organisation. Based on decades of experience developing complex products in various industries, we will help you derive improvements, adopt best practices and develop the processes your organisation needs to push the envelope in your industry.

An initial meeting and structured exchange ensure you receive:

- The best match for a senior expert from our network to meet your needs
- A reliable, trusting partner to connect with on a personal and professional level
- Regular sparring sessions to review and reflect on the most burning topics on your agenda

A valuable expertise provided from a neutral perspective, enables you to make thoughtful decisions quickly and to tackle upcoming challenges with strength, expanding your leadership role within the organisation.

Eckart Burgwedel | Senior Expert Product Management & Software Development

Eckart has gained deep expertise in product management and development throughout his 20+ years of experience as a serial entrepreneur, co-founding several successful digital startups with award-winning products before joining enable2grow. His passion is to build and deliver exciting and compelling customer value at a rapid pace. → in

Ready for the next step? Contact us for an informal exchange at +49 89 44 99 07 20 or book us here.