

Narratives and Storytelling for Organisations and Brands

Defining your narrative and magnetising it with creative storytelling to captivate target groups, and drive sales and growth.

The human brain processes information by telling and remembering stories. Storytelling is therefore the most powerful way of communication. The organisation, product or brand that communicates its positioning in a strong narrative and storytelling is on an unstoppable path to growth

- Storytelling develops a narrative that encapsulates the positioning (target group insight, key promise and reason whys) and releases its power in creative storytelling content.
- enable2grow employs a structural approach for the development of the narrative and an uncompromised-creative immersion for the storytelling content.
- The narrative uses a structural foundation defining the roles, characters and goals for the storytelling. Creative storytelling follows a media-agnostic approach in the steps, and content marketing and media planning in the campaigning phase.

Growth enabled by positioning: powerful positioning by enable2grow activates the target group by addressing a relevant need, then the positioning attracts the target group with its uniqueness – leaving no room for competition.
