

Navigating New Business Opportunities

Identify, choose and pursue new growth markets

If your business acts within a stagnating or even soon-to-be-disrupted market, it is time to leverage your company's abilities into new applications and new customers. Rapid ideation and assessment help you to navigate through a vast array of growth options within days.

One tool that enable2grow utilizes is the Market Opportunity Navigator, making the process comprehensive and interactive. In a 1.5 day workshop, enable2grow leads your core team through a 3-step process:

- Generating your market opportunity set
- Evaluating market opportunity attractiveness
- Designing your agile focus strategy, including backup options

Post-workshop – within days or weeks – the major assumptions on the potential and challenges of the growth strategy are validated through research and implementation plans, which we are happy to support in follow-up stages.

“This process delivers a whole set of market opportunities that fit the competencies and assets of your company. An attractiveness map, based on potentials and challenges, enables you to prioritize these growth approaches. As a result, the agile focus dartboard shows which approach to pursue first, which ones are kept open as backup options/options for further growth and which ones are dismissed.”
